THE GREATEST.

Portsmouth's New Dry Dock Will Be the Largest and Best in America.

IT WILL BE SUPERIOR IN MANY WAYS TO THE ONE BEING BUILT AT BOSTON.

Rear Admiral Endicott Has Planned Many Improvements.—It Will Accommodate the Largest Battleship in the World.

When Secretary Long selected Civil Engineer M. T. Endicott to fill the position of chief of the bureau of yards and docks he made one of the best appointments during his term of office. The bureau required the services of a practical man at its head and in the selection of Civil Engineer Endicott (now Rear Admiral Endicott) he found just the right man for the place. The bureau is one of the most important of the navy department, where all of its functions are performed, and with the construction of the mammoth new docks and the making of other big changes at the yards, it required a man of the highest ability, one who had been tried and found capable, and that is why Secretary Long selected the present chief of bureau. He has prepared plans for a dock here which will take front rank in the whole world. In writing of the new dock here he gives many facts of interest and the following letter gives information in addition to what has already appeared in the Herald:

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15, 1899.
Dear Sir: One of these plans shows the location of the dock, which, as you perhaps know, is partly in the channel separating the part proper from Seavey's island. The dock will be excavated chiefly in rock, the excavation lined with concrete and faced with granite masonry. The portions of the side structure which are above the level of the rock excavation will be built up in the form of a concrete wall, faced, as is all the interior of the dock, with granite.

The specifications give you the general dimensions of the dock, which are substantially the same as those of the dock now being constructed at the Boston navy yard, though it will be somewhat wider on top and the interior arrangement is, in my opinion, a considerable improvement upon that at Boston. The sides have an easy slope and the alters an easy rise.

The dock is to be equipped in the very best manner; in fact, I do not know of any, which will be in its appointments, equal to this. All the metal work connected with the big blocks, being the racks, pawls, fastenings, chains, blocks, etc., will be of composition metal. While the dock is constructed with altars or steps upon the sides, many of these are so high that the construction does not afford in itself a stairway from top to bottom, and stairs are introduced at convenient intervals along the sides of the dock. These, also, are made of composition, as well as the timber slide frames. This metal is adopted because it is not subject to corrosion and failure, and being free from rust, does not stain and discolor the masonry, which will be a very handsome piece of work.

The caisson, or gate, at the entrance of the dock is to be of steel of the best construction and well equipped with pumping apparatus for exhausting water when it is upland, and with steam capstans for handling it.

The dock will also have at intervals, at convenient distances back from the coping, electric power capstans for handling ships in and out of the dock.

The pumping apparatus will be located near the dock in a handsome granite building, and will be equipped with powerful centrifugal pumps for exhausting dock water, and these are to be driven by electric power which is to be generated at the new electric power station to be constructed by this bureau upon the site of the old ship house, No. 5, which is to be removed.

Provision has been made for substantial quay walls for approaches to the entrance to the dock, which are to be a separate item in the bid, so that if the aggregate cost of the work should exceed the appropriation, they can be omitted and built subsequently.

The dock is more expensive in some of its appointments than the one to be built at Boston, but as the site is upon rock, most of the construction is effected by simply lining the rock excavation, thereby reducing very largely the amount of concrete to be used. It is expected that this saving will very much more than offset the increased cost of excavating the rock over that of earth excavation.

The dock will be deep enough and large enough to take the largest battleship in the navy with perfect ease, and, in fact, it would receive any battleship in the world today. Its proportions are such that it would also receive any naval vessel very much larger than the greatest we now have.

Very truly yours,
MORDECAI D. ENDICOTT.

SHOTS WITH A HERALD KODAK

Capt. Asa Walker, who commanded the Concord at the battle of Manila Bay, is visiting in Manchester. He will remain there through the week and will probably be given some sort of a reception at the Derryfield club before he leaves town. Capt. Walker, who is a New Hampshire man, tells a very interesting story of the Manila fight, and those who have met him find him a very pleasant conversationalist.

The appointment of Julian F. Trask to a lucrative clerkship at Manila was stated some time ago. He will start soon for the scene of his new duties. Mr. Trask's appointment is in the department of construction and repairs at the naval station at Cavite. He is under orders to report at San Francisco, in time to take the first steamer that sails for that port after Aug. 1. Mr. Trask was born in Beverly, Mass., Oct. 1, 1849. He has been a resident of Laconia for many years, where he has been active, both in politics and in newspaper work. He was private secretary to Gov. Busiel, and subsequently was appointed labor commissioner. He is a member of many organizations, including the Ancient Order of United Workmen, Knights of Pythias, White Mountain Travelers' association and the Coon club.

Henry Bogardus, better known to the fraternity as "Bogy," and probably the oldest living telegrapher in the United States, was a visitor in Manchester Tuesday. Mr. Bogardus took his first office as telegrapher in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 22, 1853, his term of service to date being forty-seven years. He has been in every place in the United States except Connecticut, N. H., but would not say why he skipped that growing town. He has also seen service in China, Cuba and Mexico, and has made sixty-five trips under water in diving armor. He says he has been in railway accidents innumerable, and has always come out without injury. He served through the Civil war in the government telegraph service, and has the certificates to prove it.

Bogardus is something of a poet, as the following bit from his versatile brain shows:

Bogy comes and Bogy goes;
And nobody knows
From whence he comes
Or whether he goes;
But the bloom on his nose
Is as fresh as a rose,
And blossoms forever, for him, I suppose.

Israel A. Herrick, editor of the Exeter Gazette, has leased the Exeter opera house from James D. P. Wingate for three years. E. A. Mitchell, who conducted a theatre here in the old Franklin block, will manage the house for Mr. Herrick. Mitchell has had much experience in the business. He has had charge of theatres in Portsmouth, Lewiston, Me., and Amesbury, Mass., and has managed numerous companies including Morris's Paradox, "The Vendetta" and the Fairbanks Mitchell company. He is in touch with the managers of all of the leading companies. He used to book some strong attractions for his Portsmouth house.

Maurice Baldwin, the well known Manchester and Nashua newspaper man who has friends in this city, is engaged in correspondence work in Cuba. He has been occupying a suite at the Marlborough in New York with General Garcia, and left with the general a day or two ago for Santiago.

"OLD HOME" WEEK PINS.

Chief Clerk Stinson of the labor bureau, Concord, is first in the field with his Old Home Week pin, neat and appropriate in design. He has ordered one thousand to be distributed among the officers of the Old Home Week as societies formed. The pin meets a "long felt want," and everybody will want one. The picture gives a state view of mountain, lake and landscape with suitable wording underneath.

BIG FREIGHT BUSINESS.

The Boston & Maine railroad is doing an unusually large freight business this season and the various local clerks and handlers are consequently kept exceedingly busy. Extra freights have been run to this city from the east and west almost daily the past two months.

A NOVEL IDEA.

Concord Man Wants State to Give Abandoned Farms to Westerners.

Joseph H. Rolfe, a native of Concord, has written to Governor Rollins from Los Angeles, California, an interesting letter in which he outlines a "scheme" to have the abandoned farms in New Hampshire again occupied by men who have gone from the state to the west and south, and have not prospered. During the last three years Mr. Rolfe has been traveling through the west and south, which has afforded him a chance to make a study of the circumstances and conditions of large numbers of New Hampshire men who have left the state, and emigrated to the west and south.

He says: "I have found hundreds in almost every state I have visited, and if I could tell you the tales of homesickness I have listened to it would create such a sympathy as would move the whole state to tears. These people have been lured from homes (and I use the word advisedly) where they were assured of comfort and good living to an uncertainty that is to them a veritable hell on earth. Their land one year is devastated by drought, the next by grasshoppers, another by tornadoes. Then the price of grain is so low that nothing is made, and the poor wife and mother makes the calico dress go another year and learns to sew a patch on the children's shoes as well as upon their clothes, while the husband and father looks at the shabby suit and overcoat, and says that he must make it do for another year, for the interest is almost due on the mortgage the railroad holds, or some land shark of an agent who has spread his flaming prospectuses broadcast throughout the east.

"My proposition is this: 'For the state of New Hampshire to simply advance to any family that may wish to return to the state and will take up and occupy one of those old, abandoned farms, the money necessary to give them a start. It will not be much as compared to the returns that will come to the state. For the money advanced the state shall be secured by a bond, which shall be signed by three freeholders and taxpayers of the town or county in which the property is located, the property to be exempt from state taxation for the period of five years, said parties to get a bond for a deed and to have the privilege of paying off any part of the purchase money at any time. Interest at six per cent shall be charged on all unpaid balances.

"Many of these people are from good families and have been well brought up, but through force of circumstances have been brought to this condition, and have seen the utter uselessness of further struggling against such overwhelming odds, and would gladly bail such a chance to return to the old Granite state."

Mr. Rolfe would like to have his plan put into operation during "Old Home" week next month. Gov. Rollins is much interested in the idea.

SENATOR MASON IS HAVING A GOOD TIME.

There are public and professional men at York Harbor who put on more style, are richer and live in more pretentious houses, but none is enjoying himself more than the Illinois Senator, William E. Mason, who, by the way, is one of the most popular residents in the summer colony, and he declares that it is his intention to spend his future summers there.

Almost everybody hereabouts knows the rotund statesman from the west. Any conductor on either of the steam or electric cars can point out the little, old fashioned house at what is known as "Bradford's," where the senator and his family are stopping for the summer.

"It's like living down here," says the senator. "I have never before been so situated that I could sleep as long as I wanted to in the morning, or go to bed at night as early as I wanted to, until this summer, and this is the first real vacation I have ever had. I tell you, this is a grand place to rest and recuperate. Why, since I've been here we haven't had a hot day. This house is 189 years, one of the first built here, but we enjoy more comfort in it than we would at the most luxuriously furnished hotel on the entire coast."

TEA TABLE TALK.

A friend of mine thus describes the game of golf: "You whang the ball in the morning. If you find it in the afternoon, you come home."

I am glad to see that the Portsmouth electric railway profited by the Herald's suggestion that the noon cars would have to make more convenient trips to gain the patronage they deserve. Now the schedule from 12 to 1 o'clock accommodates about everybody that wants to ride.

We shall miss "Jule" Trask when he goes to Manila to take that government job, but we who know him well all rejoice that the jolly good man from Laconia has been so generously favored by the fates. We shall expect some interesting letters from "Jule" written in his characteristically original vein.

A Portsmouth man who saw the races at Detroit declares that Kingman was deliberately cheated out of winning by the judge. He says the noble gelding finished first in two heats where the decision displaced him. According to him, the New Hampshire horse captured the whole crowd by his game trotting.

I took in that 5.30 trip on the Mystic down the harbor the other day and I wonder that more people don't do the same thing. It is certainly a nice ride of an hour on a warm day and brings you back with a keen appetite for supper. The trip is quite popular, I am told, but it seems to me that it is not so popular as it ought to be at the cheap rate that it is offered.

LOCAL STORIES.

A city millionaire, quite well known here, who spends his summer vacation in a northern New Hampshire village, loves to dazzle the natives with his magnificence. He was unfortunate enough to spoil a suit of clothes out hunting and had recourse to the local tailor for another outfit. There was a great do-do over the garments. The entire town knew of the preparations. The millionaire measurements were obtained from his city tailor, and if fussiness were an available factor in clothes making the suit should have been perfect.

When finished, however, the suit was skin-tight. The millionaire hastened to the tailor and threatened a suit. "Go ahead," replied that functionary, after listening to the tirade, "sue me, do. Didn't you give me city measurements?" "Yes," returned the irate customer. "Well, sir, I kin bring a hundred witnesses to prove you are a darned eight bigger man up here than you ever were in the city where you live."

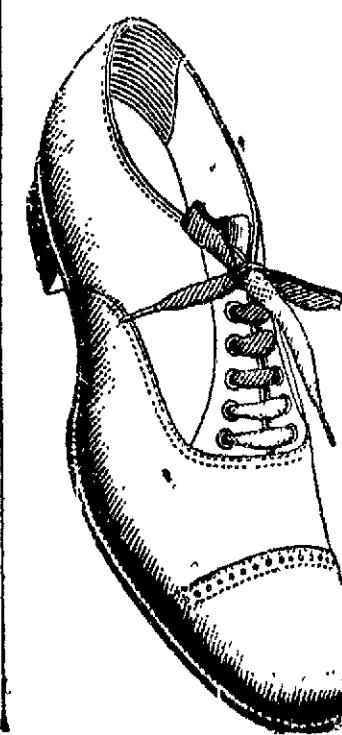

In a punning spirit a bicycle paper prints the following: "Stout persons are recommended to ride with dropped handle bars. It will make them lean." According to athletic trainers there is more fact than jest in this statement. If the stout men and women who ride to get thin would lean over more they would have greater success. The trouble with the fat men who have big stomachs to reduce is that they ride lazily. They sit bolt upright and at ease and pedal slowly. They take just enough exercise and fresh air to improve their digestion and increase their appetite. Consequently they grow stouter and declare that the bicycle is useless for reducing weight. It is the stout ones who will not punish themselves a bit who cannot hope for much success. It is an old formula that for a big stomach saving wood is a first-rate remedy. It is not comfortable for persons of this build to bend over as in sawing wood, but on a bicycle they can do a little at first and increase the bend as they decrease the flesh, and in a way need not punish themselves too much. They should, of course, take something more than pleasure rides; they should scorch all they can and persevere.

STORY OF A SLAVE.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams of Manchester, Mich., tells us how much a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." TOWER AND HAY TO CONFER

Great Britain Has Manifested a Desire to Continue the Alaskan Boundary

Negotiations.

Some Surprise Was Manifested When

the British Charge, Mr. Tower,

Resumed Communications With

Secretary Hay on this Subject.

Washington, July 25.—Great Britain has suddenly manifested a disposition to continue the Alaskan boundary negotiations, which seemed to be at the point of indefinite suspension. There was some surprise when the British charge, Mr. Tower, resumed communications with Secretary Hay on this subject.

Presumably important cables from London have been received at the British Embassy since Sir Charles

Tupper and Sir William Laurier induced the subject of the Alaskan boundary negotiations. There are indications that the Canadian charge, Mr. Tower, has received instructions to conduct negotiations on a new line.

Months ago the United States held out the possibility of a treaty arrangement whereby Canada might be permitted to make commercial use of one of the Alaskan ports of the United States. It was not proposed to cede a foot of ground at the water, or to concede the shadow of a title to the port.

But this Government has insisted that the United States should have the right to a free port for goods

going to or coming from Canada territory, would be satisfactory.

At that time Canada, through Great Britain, was striving for recognition which would give support to a claim for out-and-out possession of a harbor

on the Lynn Canal. The Canadian had their eyes upon Pyramid harbor. They would not consider such a proposition as port privileges without possession or title. Nothing came of the proposition except a counter

proposition which was altogether different in principle.

Canada proposed that Pyramid Harbor be held in joint possession with a neutral strip two miles wide extending across American territory from the harbor to the Canadian boundary. The effect was to substitute joint ownership for the American possession.

With this concession granted, Canada expressed a willingness to arbitrate

the disputed boundary.

St. James Gazette Horrified.

London, July 25.—Commenting upon the debate in the (Canadian) Parliament on Saturday regarding the Alaskan boundary question, the St. James's

Gazette says:

"The brick air of the United States and Canada is conducive to strong words, which, when they come from the lips of a European statesman until the point of mobilize was on the point of issuing. Nobody thinks of war in connection with the Canadian-American dispute. Yet since it is we who will have to fight if Canada makes a quarrel, we must stand with one of our fellows subjects to a quarrel which will be a quarrel for the sake of a quarrel. If Sir Charles Tupper means anything, he desires the presentation of an ultimatum which could only mean war. Sir William Laurier, although calmer, was tolerably emphatic.

As things are going now, we are drifting to a serious diplomatic collision with the United States which Great Britain is earnestly anxious to avoid."

Liability of Pawnbrokers.

Wheeler, W. Va., July 25.—Justice

James A. Dunning has handed down a decision in an interesting case involving the liability of pawnbrokers for the payment of damages for lost property. Several weeks ago Benjamin

Jacob's safe was stolen from a pawnshop. The pawnshop owner, who had received $6,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry from Jacob, was sued for the value of his goods, but the Justice rendered judgment for Jacob on the ground that he had taken as great care of the property as could have been expected. The plaintiffs have taken an appeal to a higher court, and will confront Justice Dunning's decision set aside.

Woman Accused By Lad of Murder.

Newark, N. J., July 25.—Robert

Allden Fales, the lad who was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Thomas Hayden, was a letter three months before he died in which he claimed that not he, but a woman, had committed the crime. The letter has been made public. The boy wrote that he received $700 as the price of his silence. Hayden was killed April 30,

1922, the motive being robbery. Fales died last May.

The Spokes Hit Her.

Kotomo, Ind., July 25.—Miss Mary

Bradford, a well-known young lady of this city, was frightfully mangled in a runaway accident. The spokes of a broken carriage wheel passed through her lower limbs in a dozen places, breaking bones and lacerating the flesh. An ambulance brought her to her home.

Cretans Now Rule Crete.

Candia, Crete, July 25.—The Government of the island of Crete has been formally handed over to the Cretans

by the British authorities, the British flag being finally lowered. The emigration of Mussulmans continues.

Boy Killed By Fly Poison.

Suffield, Conn., July 25.—James, the three-year-old son of James Eggleston, died in great agony here as the result of poisoning. While playing about the house, he drank freely from a dish

which contained fly poison.

A Chain Letter Scheme.

Boston, Mass., July 25.—A chain-letter scheme has been started for the erection of a monument to the unknown dead of the Spanish War in Washington Cemetery.

WRONG MAN CONVICTED.

Knack is Serving a Life Term For

Poisoning His Wife.

Wautoma, Wis., July 25.—John M.

Clark, clerk of the Circuit Court of Waushara County, has received a letter from a man in the northern part of this State which says he committed

a crime ten years ago for which Ferdinand Knack is now serving a life sentence.

Ferdinand Knack was convicted at the September term of the Circuit Court of Waushara County in 1889 for

poisoning his wife.

Chemists who analyzed the stomach

found strychnine in sufficient quan-

ties to produce death, and Waupena druggists identified Knack as the person to whom the drug had been sold.

The man writing the letter claims that he was in love with Knack's first wife before she married him, and when he was discarded for another swore vengeance. He went to her residence in Springwater, and, pretending to be on friendly terms as of old, gave her some candy, of which she ate and which he claimed caused her death, as it was poisoned.

Death Reveals Double Life.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 25.—The death of Charles C. Jones, at the City

Hospital, revealed a mysterious surrounding the disappearance of a citizen of Blossburg, Pa., ten years ago.

About that time Jones came to this city and engaged in business as a painter and paper hanger. He prospered and six years ago was married to a girl named Myers. Several children of the Myers family are now living happily, the wife making no inquiries regarding her husband's past.

Several weeks ago he was taken ill and went to the hospital. His disease proved incurable, and when informed death was inevitable he asked that his relatives in Blossburg be told when the time came. This was done, and the discovery was made that he had been married there, having a wife and one child living. His name was not Jones, but Jackson, and his parents were wealthy. One day he disappeared and nothing more was heard of him. A short time ago his father died without knowing his whereabouts.

Their Plans For Peace.

The Hague, July 25.—The meeting of the Peace Conference today will be the last for the transaction of business. There will be another meeting on Wednesday of Thursday for the signing of the final protocol and conventions. All the powers will sign the protocol, which is merely a narrative of the proceedings, but how many will sign the convention is a matter of much speculation. It is expected that many signatures will be deferred until the home governments examine the conventions. It is assumed that the American delegates will sign, subject to the Senate's constitutional right to regulate the signatures. It is doubted whether Sir Julian Pauncefote, the head of the British delegation, will receive instructions by the date of the final meeting.

Rescued Bather in Sight of 3,000.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 25.—Three thousand persons saw Life-guard Jeffries heroically rescue Mrs. Norma E.

Keefe, of New York, from drowning

in the surf. As she came to the surface the second time, the guard attempted to put the buoy about her body, but the frantic woman grabbed him tightly around the neck. By a desperate effort he broke her hold and then had to dive for her as she sank again. The woman, when brought ashore, was resuscitated with much difficulty.

Lincoln's Sweetheart Dead.

Lexington, Ky., July 25.—Mrs. Mary

Lorow Lawless died at her home here.

She was eighty-two years old. She was a sweetheart of Abraham Lincoln and a reigning belle of her day. Her maiden name was Joplin, and her home was at Mount Vernon, Ky. Her husband was James R. Lawless, a

Mexican war veteran, who survives

her. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Mary

L. Scott, widow of the late Lieutenant

John Scott, of the United States Army.

Under the Wreckage.

Massillon, Ohio, July 25.—A serious accident occurred on the W. and L. E.

Railroad near Jewett. A car of pipe broke down, derailing a portion of the train. Conductor P. M. Kizer and Brakemen Greager, Griley and Walters, of Massillon, were injured. Greager was buried under the wreckage in a ditch and was nearly drowned when reached. Griley's arm was broken.

They Want Their Wages.

Anderson, Ind., July 25.—Graders

and trackmen in the employ of the H.

W. Schunk Construction Company, building a through freight cut-off south of the city, have enjoined the Big Four from paying the construction company

for work until after it had first sat-

it is claimed, the construction company is slow in paying.

Havana advices say that the tobacco market of that city is oversupplied. So, after all, the Cubans must have been raising something besides trouble.

There are further reports that Russia is eager to procure a heavy loan in this country. This being the money center of the world, Russia evidently believes in coming straight to headquarters.

Meanwhile it will be observed that the new secretary of war was chosen by the president and not by the anti-administration newspapers. Those able journals doubtless regard Mr. McKinley as a very obstinate man.

One of the state officials of Kentucky informs Governor Bradley that the best way to suppress the feud in Clay county would be to introduce a better brand of whiskey in that neighborhood. The stuff now used appears to be so violent that after drinking half a pint of it the average man is seized with an uncontrollable ambition to grab his gun and shoot holes in the sky.

ABOUT THE STATE.

George Ricker, aged 43, was found dead in a room at the City hotel, Rochester, on Tuesday morning, having severed the jugular vein with a jack knife. He had passed his arm around the wash bowl which he had placed on the floor, then cut his throat, the blood flowing into the bowl, which was nearly full. There was scarcely a drop on the carpet.

Peter Bernbe, Archie Houle, Philip Pepin and John Roberts have returned from the Klondike regions, where they went with the Somersworth Klondike club about one year ago. They are all looking well, but say that they have had some pretty hard experiences which they would not care to repeat. None of them struck it very rich.

The selectmen of Loudon are in trouble. They awarded a contract to build a school house to the highest bidder of the lowest bidder and an injunction has been issued.

YELLOW JOURNAL'S YARN DENIED.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—Henry W. Cramp, vice president of Cramps' Ship building company, today denied the statement in a New York paper that serious defects have been discovered in the hull design of the battleship Maine. The published statements are that the lines of the hull had been made flur to secure excessive speed, bringing her displacement to 12,000 tons. By the bearing down of the hull, it is stated that 200 tons of armor will have to be sacrificed. Mr. Cramp denied this.

FUNERAL OF ROBERT G. INGERSOLL.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The funeral of the late Robert G. Ingersoll took place this afternoon at Walston on the Hudson, where he died last Friday. No clergyman was present to conduct the services, and there was no music, nor were there any pall bearers. Dr. John Elliott of New York read the funeral oration delivered by Mr. Ingersoll over his mother's dead body, and one or two poems were read by personal friends.

THE CLEVELAND STRIKE.

CLEVELAND, O., July 25.—The strikers and their friends held a meeting tonight to protest against the presence of the state troops and the carrying of arms by private citizens. No rioting or violence occurred today, probably because of the rain which fell most of the afternoon. Eleven of the fourteen lines of the railway are in operation.

OF COURSE HE ESCAPED.

HANOVER, N. H., July 25.—The residents of Norwiche, Vt., are considerably excited over an attempt to burglarize the house of Captain Converse of the cruiser Montgomery. The house was entered early this morning. Mrs. Converse and daughters were awakened. One of the daughters gave chase with a revolver and fired several shots, but the man escaped.

WHITE MEN KILLED.

NABASOLA, TEXAS, July 25.—A riot occurred last night eight miles north of here in which three white men were killed by negroes. A crowd of negroes burned a church belonging to white people and the three white men were trying to put out the fire that the negroes had kindled. A squad of armed white men is pursuing the negroes.

NAVAL BOARD OF INSPECTION.

Here Today—Fighting Bob Evans With Them.

The naval board of inspection are here today. They came in from Boston on the 10.45 train this morning and took carriages for the Rockingham, where they dined. They went over to the navy yard at two o'clock this afternoon. The head of the board is Admiral F. B. Rogers, U. S. N. He is accompanied by Captain Robley D. Evans, C. R. Roetter, J. D. Linard, W. H. Emory and N. Sargent. Captain Evans has become so well known to the public that he was picked out by a number of people at the depot when he alighted from the train. The board are here in connection with the meeting of the board of appraisers at the yard.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

Fiction is the leading feature of the August number of Harper's magazine. Among the short stories which it contains are "Allie Cannon's First and Last Duel," by Stephen Crane; "The Sorrows of Don Thomas Pidal, Reconcentrado," by Frederic Remington; and "A Dulluth Tragedy," by Thomas A. Janvier. The main story in "The Drawer" is "A Compounded Felony," by James Barnes. There are further installments of "Their Silver Wedding Journey," by W. D. Howells, and "The Princess Xenia," by H. B. Marriott Watson. Some of the more serious features are Mr. Sandham's article on "Hayti the Unknown," Admiral Beardslee's paper on "Episodes of the Teiping Rebellion," and Lieutenant Calkins' study of "Philippine Insurrection of 1896." Bliss Carman and Thomas Dunn English are the verse writers of the number. The illustrations are uncommonly attractive throughout.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long of Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes that this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles at Globe Grocery Co.

BROKE UP THE MEETING

An Amateur Orator Receives Unexpected Answer to His Question.

In the recent political campaign in Baltimore the campaign was particularly hot in the Sixth Ward. In that ward, though no longer a fashionable section, resided many substantial citizens—the younger members of whose families may have married and moved to more desirable sections of the city, but the parents remain in the old homestead. A mass meeting was called in Market House Hall, in this ward, and a special committee was appointed to wait upon the oldest residents and invite them to a place of honor upon the platform, and to induce some of them to say a word or two as to the great blessings to be enjoyed under our form of government, most of which were ascribed to the party holding the meeting, and to give a little advice to the younger men to vote early, if not often.

The hall was crowded, and great enthusiasm prevailed. The old citizens of the ward were prominently in evidence, and filled the platform. The oldest, the wealthiest, and the most distinguished of the number, was a retired hog drover and land owner. He was introduced with a great flourish by the chairman, bowed profoundly when the applause had ceased, and said in broken English:

"My Fellow Citizens—Sixty years ago I came to this country a poor boy—what am I now?"

In the pause that followed a deep bass voice in the rear of the hall called out:

"A damned mean old hog!"

That closed the amateur oratory of the evening, and the meeting broke up.

Polly at the Phone.

One West Madison street druggist lost a customer on Monday through his fondness for pets, says the Chicago News. He has a large green parrot and the cage is hung near the telephone. As a result, that Polly has become quite proficient in "telephone talk," and furnishes much amusement to the customers who have the time to stop and listen.

On Monday a stylishly dressed young lady came rustling into the store and asked permission to use the phone. The druggist pointed to the rear of the store and she started in that direction. The store was rather dark, and when she heard someone apparently talking into the receiver she seated herself on a chair to wait.

"Hello, central—hello, hello—yes, give me four-double-eight express. Yes, hello; who is that? O E; yes; what, yes; hello. I say; no I didn't get that; is that so; well, goodbye; ring off; hello, central; hello, hello; give me"—and so on, and so on through several repetitions.

Then she rose and advanced with a staid air to the clerk and asked if he thought "person" intended to use the telephone all day.

"Why that's only the parrot, he!"

But the front door had slammed before he could finish his sentence.

Good Snake Shooting.

Snake shooting is a novel sport of recent introduction at Williamsport, Md., and which is becoming quite popular. There are an unusual number of snakes along the streams and in the country hereabout, and many of them are copperheads, a poisonous reptile and much feared. Rattles, as a rule, are used by persons who indulge in snake shooting. A favorite place for the sport is along the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, where water and black snakes and copperheads abound in great numbers.

Within the past few weeks the reptile population along the canal has been seriously depleted. A Hagerstown man who spent his Sundays shooting snakes killed over a hundred in two days. In one day he shot with a rifle thirty water snakes, besides a number of others. William Stake killed a monster copperhead snake on the towpath, just below town. It measured four feet.

Goldfish From City Waters.

Men from the Aquarium recently dragged the pond at Fifty-ninth street and the lake in Central Park, New York, for gold fish and silver fish and other small fishes, wherewith to stock some of the city's fountains and for specimens for the Aquarium. There were found many handsome goldfish, some of them a foot in length. The large fountain by the lake in Central Park, at the foot of the terrace, was stocked with goldfish and silver fish, as was also the basin of the fountain in City Hall Park, in which there were also placed a number of white perch and sunfish. At the request of the Department of Highways there were also stocked with goldfish the two fountains in Broadway at Seventy-second street. For the Aquarium a number of roach and sunfish and white and yellow perch were taken.

Japanese Copper Wire.

The Japanese are preparing to convert their copper ore into wire for domestic and foreign use, instead of shipping it out of the country as before. The Furukawa Smelting Works have for some time employed electrolytic refining, producing in the past year 800 tons, but they are now to be enlarged to four times their present size, and it is said that when the enlargement is complete their output will so far exceed the domestic demand as to permit a considerable export. As the government uses several hundred tons of wire a year, it may be inferred that the new works will have a large capacity.

Making Acetylene Gas.

Acetylene gas, as is generally known, is produced by moistening calcium carbide with water. Some idea of its extensive use will be gathered when it is learned that there is being erected at Niagara Falls a plant for the manufacture of calcium carbide, which will have an output of one hundred tons per day. Electrical energy, equivalent to 25,000 horse power, will be required to operate it.

It is bright and sparkling and has a nice creamy taste, and is prescribed by the doctors generally as a sedative for nervous people. There are but few medicines equal to this ale. Many people who are weak find that a glass taken at night secures them a continuing and refreshing sleep. As a tonic for ladies and invalids it has no equal.

Directions:—One small glass full four times a day, before eating and going to bed.

FACTS ABOUT FLIES

ADAMIRABLY CONSTRUCTED FOR THE PURPOSES OF THEIR CREATION.

The humble housefly is one of the oldest and always has been one of the most distinguished of insects...

Despite their antiquity, flies are still something of a mystery, and it was not until 1884 that Dr. J. E. Roubout, a French entomologist, discovered and advocated the correct theory of how a housefly walks on a ceiling...

This is the theory of Roubout, obtained after some fine calculations. A once popular idea was that the feet of the fly, being cup-shaped, enabled him through what is called suction to cling to the ceiling...

Then Roubout set about formulating his own theory. He examined the tracks of flies on a window pane, and the idea of capillary force impressed him. He dipped the end of a hair in oil of olives and succeeded in suspending the hair from a clean glass pane...

Altogether, in the course of his experiments, Roubout discovered other interesting things about the fly. Each of the two wings of the insect is provided with hairs on the underside that serve as a fine brush to clean the feet...

The chief value of a fly lies in his scavenging qualities. Indeed some scientists say that without his assistance man would not be able to live in the temperate zone...

Nature has provided well for the fly in his powers of flight and ability of escaping from danger. He is supplied with 7,000 separate eyes that never sleep and can look either in front or behind...

What Posterity Is To Miss. "Have you noticed," said the pale mathematician, "how much easier it is going to be, after this year, to write the number of the year in Roman numerals?"

"What do I want to write the year in Roman numerals for?" said the ruddy business man. "Maybe you don't," the pale mathematician answered, "but notice the difference. In Arabic figures it has taken just four figures to write the number of the year ever since the year 1,000, and it will take no more till the year 9,999."

"Not to the year 2388," said the pale mathematician. "That will be written in Romans MMCCCLXXXVIII—thirteen letters again."

The ruddy business man was getting more and more uneasy. "And what—what of it?" he said. "Why, only think," said the pale mathematician, "how many generations of our descendants will never see a year so short to write as 1999, and how many and many more will never see a year so long to write as 1888?"

POINTS AND MOOT POINTS.

Easy roads lead to hard places. Beauty is God's smile, love is his embrace.

We dream of heaven up to the very edge of hell. Religion is to give to man what God gives to us.

The fool knows everybody, or nobody, but himself. We can have nothing without imagination—God least of all.

Art bequeaths an immortal soul to certain forms of matter. Imagination may exhilarate, but when it intoxicates it is abused.

Truth generally flashes a light on us not becoming to our style of beauty. Time is an uneasy sleep—eternal life is the glorious dream that disturbs it.

Shadows of thought and dreams of some are all man attains to in this unruly called Time. Contradictions and inconsistencies are the sum and substance of life, yet somehow there is reconciliation.

What God idealizes is done, or in process of being done. Wisdom is primarily the patience of love to abide results. There are ideas powerful enough to revolutionize society—they only wait to be incarnated in a sincere and unselfish personality.

Man lacks nothing more than righteous courage to resist injustice; death is too late and too ignominious a retreat from human oppression. The human body, the ship of the soul, after its eventful voyage gladly lays its bones upon the rocky shores of time, having done its full duty by its immortal passenger.

Japan has only one sporting newspaper. Boston contains three pensioners of the War of 1812. A Chicago woman makes her living by selling fish bones.

The number of children and youth in the United States is 21,082,452. Of these 9,718,432 are enrolled in Sunday schools. The nails of two fingers never grow with the same rapidity. That on the middle finger grows fastest, that on the thumb the slowest.

In France there are 6,000,000 smokers. Of every 15 there are 8 who smoke cigars, 5 who use pipes and only 2 addicted to cigarettes. Still these comparatively few smoke 800,000,000 cigarettes a year.

"Dimness of sight, palpitation, shortness of breath, black spots or else shining lights" before my eyes, terrible headache, numbness in my arms and hands and tongue, also my jaws would get numb; constipation, prostration, debilitating drains, soreness through my bowels; in fact I was distressed from head to foot.

Mrs. Mollie E. Carpenter, of Portland, Me., writes: "When Dr. Pierce's health, I was so weak I could only write a few words when I would have to rest. I am as healthy as a horse now."

Dr. Pierce's health, I was so weak I could only write a few words when I would have to rest. I am as healthy as a horse now. I can take a ten quart pail in one hand and a six quart pail in the other (full of water) and carry both one fourth of a mile and never stop to rest.

Most dealers in medicine sell Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There is no other medicine that is "the same" or "just as good." Don't accept a substitute.

THE HERALD.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 1899.

HEDDING THE BEAUTIFUL.

In the selection of the camp meeting grounds at Hedding, N. H., where the Chautauqua assembly is held, one of the most charming and healthful resorts hereabouts was chosen. Located on the shores of a most beautiful lake, not far from Manchester, with charming walks, drives and paths in every direction. The management of the assembly has been untiring in its efforts to arrange a programme, every number of which is interesting and instructive. Art, language and music will be prominent features, and all who take advantage of the low rates the Boston & Maine railroad have made for this outing, will be doubly repaid. Inquire of ticket agents regarding them.

ELECTRIC RAILROAD NOTES.

Supt. Howard is planning a new time table to go into effect on the Rye and Middle street lines as soon as the work on the extensions are completed.

President Tuttle of the Boston & Maine met a committee on Monday in Boston to talk over proposed extensions.

A telephone system for use of the line with stations at all of the turnouts, is being planned.

Patrons of the line will find many places of interest on the Portsmouth, Kittery & York electric railroad, when Superintendent Meloon gets all of his plans perfected.

FIRE ALARM NOTICE

For fire in box 14 districts go to box 16 or 51. For fire in districts covered by boxes 38, 39 and 45 go to box 37, corner of Cass and Islington streets.

EGBERT J. SULLIVAN,
Chief Engineer.

PARISH PICNIC.

A large number of the Christ church parish went to Jenness Beach Tuesday on their annual outing and picnic. It was not much of a day for picnics and it rained most of the time. This made it most disagreeable and proved a great disappointment to the young people. A list of athletic sports had been arranged with valuable prizes, but owing to the rain none of them were pulled off.

It is expected that some arrangements will be made to have the sports take place at the bicycle park in this city in the near future.

BISMARCK'S IRON NERVE.

TO GO TO MANILA.

The president on Tuesday appointed Julian F. Trask a clerk at Manila at a salary of $1800. It is understood that he will accept the appointment and while his hosts of friends will rejoice at his good fortune they will all regret to have him leave the state.

DEATH OF A CHILD.

Arthur Hopkins died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harnden on Sudbury street Tuesday morning at the age of three years and nine months. The child was one which was being brought up by Mr. and Mrs. Harnden, and was to be adopted by them.

WILL ENTERTAIN.

Hon. Henry A. Yeaton of this city will entertain the State Senatorial association of '99 at Hotel Wentworth, tomorrow, Thursday. The association will have as guests Governor Rollins and Rear Admiral George C. Belknap, U. S. N., retired.

ATTENTION VETERAN FIREMEN.

The tub will be worked on Thursday night and all members who wish to attend the muster should be on hand at seven o'clock. Per Order, FOREMAN.

A wheelman's tool bag isn't complete without a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Heals cuts, bruises, stings, sprains. Monarch over pain.

WANDERED INTO WOODS.

Henry Aurelius, Demented, Loses Himself But Is Found.

Henry Aurelius, head butcher at the Globe Grocery company, left his board ing place early Tuesday evening while temporarily deranged.

He has been suffering from an attack of typhoid fever for the past few days and has been under the constant care of his physician.

He was left alone for a while and watching his chance got up and dressed himself in a light suit of clothes, and left the house. The police were at once notified but it was sometime before they got any clue of the missing man. Shortly after nine o'clock Charles Pearson, who resides near the Plains, discovered the man near his house. He noticed the man was not all right mentally and started to hitch up his horse to bring him to this city. While he was engaged in this Aurelius took to the woods again and disappeared. Officers Quinn and Murphy, accompanied by Mr. Ralph Gould, head clerk at the Globe Grocery Co., procured a team and drove out that way in search of him.

Aurelius showed up this morning of his own accord at his boarding place. He was wet through and showed the effects of his all-night exposure in the woods. He is not violent at all, and the derangement of his faculties will probably pass away. He has been in poor health for some time.

NO SPARE ROOM AT YORK.

Can't Handle Outing of Nashua Grocers.

The Nashua grocers have decided not to go to York Beach on their annual outing, because they are unable to secure sufficient accommodation. This is a most convincing proof that York is having a great run of popularity this season.

At a meeting of the grocers Monday evening, letters were read from the proprietors of The York, Young's hotel and the Ocean house. These each said that the date set would be during the busiest season, and it would be difficult for them to provide a dinner for a party of more than a hundred aside from their regular guests. A letter was read from G. W. Lord, proprietor of the picnic grounds at York, where the party could be accommodated, but there was no shelter at this place.

Voted to rescind the vote of the last meeting that the outing be held at York Beach, and it was finally decided to leave the choice of a place in the hands of the outing committee.

WAS COMMITTED TO JAIL.

Yet Is Not Locked Up but Goes Where He Pleases.

P. Harrington, the well known wholesale liquor dealer, of Manchester, was ordered committed to jail for contempt of court on Tuesday morning. So far as the law goes he is in jail, but he is as much at liberty as ever and is quite likely to continue so.

Mr. Harrington is at his home or about the streets as usual and is not even in the hands of a keeper, although the sheriff is supposed to keep an eye on him and produce him in court when he is wanted. This is by agreement of the counsel on both sides and will continue until a hearing is had on the application for a writ of habeas corpus to be filled by Mr. Harrington's counsel. Hearing on this matter is not likely to come until fall.

HALE VS. JACQUES AGAIN.

There was an important hearing before the whole bench of the supreme court at the chambers at the state library building, Concord, Tuesday afternoon, in the suit Hale vs. Jacques, brought to secure a division of property at Little Bear's Head, Hampton Beach. Hons. S. C. Eastman of Concord and J. S. H. Frink of this city appeared for Mrs. Hale, Attorney-General Eastman for Jacques. The hearing was on the report in the case which has just been handed down by Hon. D. Arthur Taggart of Manchester.

ROCHESTER DRIVING PARK.

The Driving Club at Rochester, N. H., has decided to run a series of races August 1st, 2d and 3d, and with purses amounting to $2400, there is no reason why the fast horses now in the vicinity should not be attracted. The park is known as a fast one and the attendance is always good. Reduced rate tickets are on sale at many Boston and Maine railroad stations to Rochester which includes an admission to the races.

VOLCANIC ERUPTIONS.

DOVER RACES POSTPONED.

The harness meet which was to have met at the Granite State Trotting park, Dover, Tuesday, had to be postponed on account of rain. Today's races could not be pulled off, either.

Should the weather clear up for the remainder of the week the followers of the turf will be given some splendid sport, as the entry list contains a good field of horses.

POLICE OUTING.

The officers of the police force did not have an ideal day for their outing on Tuesday, but they had an ideal time and they will not soon forget it. Every officer on the force, excepting Marshal Eastwistle, who was left in charge of the station, with Special Officer Hodgkins as assistant to answer outside calls, left the city at 11:20 over the Portsmouth, Kittery & York electric road, for York Beach, accompanied by members of the press and Judge A. Shaw Waldron, sampler of chowders, bouillon, etc., and master of the post prandial exercises.

The ride to York Beach, notwithstanding the disagreeable southeast rain, was most enjoyable, and was enlivened by story telling and jokes, Judge Waldron having laid in a special lot for the occasion.

Arriving at the end of the line the party was met by Mr. John J. Murphy, whose guests the gentlemen were, and conducted to his well kept and spacious cafe, named in honor of Admiral Dewey.

The long ride had made everyone hungry and Mr. Murphy had the banquet ready as soon as his guests could be seated at the tables. The dinner was one of unusual excellence, splendidly served. Following is the menu:

Steamed Clams, Butter Sauce.	Fish Chowder.
Boiled Halibut.	Baked Bluefish.
Green Peas.	Mashed Potatoes.
Turnips.	Cucumbers.
Tomatoes.	Potato Salad.
Loyster Salad.	Banana Fritters.
Apple, Lemon, Squash and Blueberry Pres.	Vanilla and Strawberry Ice Cream.
Macaroons and Assorted Cakes.	Bananas.
Pears.	Peaches.
Oranges.	Grapes.

Cate Noir. Cigars.

Cigars were reached at about three o'clock and after passing a vote of thanks to Mr. Murphy for the splendid dinner and to the pretty waiter girls for excellent service the party adjourned to the Arcade, where bowling was indulged in for an hour, and Officers Hurley and Quinn and Murphy and Hilton demonstrated that they knew a thing or two about ten pins.

At four o'clock the entire party enjoyed a buckboard ride to Passaconaway Inn and Roaring Rock by invitation of Constable Joe York, the managing proprietor of the Arcade stables. The ride was a most beautiful one and Mr. York made it doubly pleasant by his explanation of the various points of interest.

At 5:30 the buckboard drove up at the terminus of the electric road in season to catch the car returning to Portsmouth at that hour and the delightful outing was brought to an end at seven o'clock by the arrival of the party in this city.

The officers who composed the party were: Assistant Marshal West, Captain Burns, and Officers Hilton, Anderson, Robinson, Marden, Hurley, Murphy, Kelly, Shannon, Holbrook, Quinn, Seymour.
